

HISTORICAL FIGURES.

[S. F. Call.]

The three foremost figures of the late civil war were Lincoln, Grant and Sherman. There were other heroes and statesmen, but these three stand well in the foreground, and will doubtless be fixed there by the unanimous voice of future historians. Of the three, Sherman was the most heroic and dramatic. Lincoln's great strength lay in patience, in his ability to wait with fortitude events which his wonderful sagacity perceived in the distant future, and in the aptitude with which he seized the occasion as it passed. He neither anticipated events nor did he strike at them in their retreat. He laid hold on them as they came up and bent them to his service. The removal of McClellan from the command of the Army of the Potomac, the order for the release of Mason and Sidel, the emancipation proclamation, and the notification to the British Government that the launching of more Alabama's would be regarded by this Government as an act of war, were all instances in which the act was suited to the time. It was General Grant's good fortune to inherit some measure of the fame which would have been Lincoln's had he lived. The country was so grateful for the great service rendered that it had to pour out its demonstrations on some living head. General Grant was in command of the army when Lee surrendered, and he was made the hero of the war. His own service was so great that there was no lack of fitness in this selection. If he had not been, like Lincoln, an absolute indispensable agent in procuring the result, he had certainly contributed good work and at the right time. His peculiar characteristics are stamped upon the intelligence of the Nation about as distinctly as those of Lincoln. All will admit, however, that another could have been found to do Grant's work much easier than to do Lincoln's. Sherman was always dashing, heroic and dramatic. His demand for two hundred thousand troops, when a few thousand three months' volunteers were called for, impressed the people with the idea that he was an unsafe man. Some called him insane. It was soon discovered, however, that he looked further into the future than the average politician, and had the audacity to state what he saw. Lincoln may have had quite a clear view of the magnitude of the struggle the people were about to enter upon, but he did not think the people ready for the announcement. Sherman was well in his place, but it was well he was not in Lincoln's place. His famous march through Georgia was characteristic of the man. Apparently the most perilous military undertaking of the war, it was in reality the most safe. If there had been an enemy Sherman and his army would have been annihilated; as there was none, he marched in triumph to the sea and thereby won immortal glory. The last of these men has now retired from the service of his country. Lincoln passed from the scene of his labor almost at the first moment when he could feel sure that it was done. Grant lived to enjoy a popularity without parallel in the history of the country, but his efforts to secure the Presidency for a third term somewhat depressed him. Sherman has so far declined to bite at the bait which tempted his superior in rank, and now retires with undiminished popularity. Probably he could have the nomination which Grant is said to still desire, but the hope is that he will be content with the honors already bestowed upon him.

Rich Women.

The New York World prints a list of seventy New York widows and fifteen unmarried female legatees, whose united wealth is about $123,000,000. The wealthiest are Mrs. A. T. Stewart, $10,000,000; Mrs. E. D. Morgan, $5,000,000; Mrs. Marshall O. Roberts, $5,000,000; Mrs. Farnam Stevens, $3,000,000; Mrs. Edwin A. Stevens, $2,000,000; Mrs. Moses Taylor, $6,000,000; Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, $5,000,000; Mrs. James Brown, $3,000,000. The richest unmarried lady is Catherine Wolfe, $2,000,000, who also leads the entire list in noble and munificent charities. A fashionable Broadway diamond dealer says New York is foremost among the leading diamond cities of the world. At least one million dollars' worth glittered on the persons of ladies at the Metropolitan opera opening, one lady wearing forty thousand dollars' worth. Probably two hundred ladies have fifteen thousand dollars' worth of personal jewelry. I can name ten like Mrs. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Gould, whose individual property in diamonds, sapphires, rubies and emeralds exceed $100,000. More than forty New York ladies can each lay claim to fifty thousand dollars' worth of jewelry, and plenty of them have $25,000 invested.

A CONTEMPTIBLE REVENGE.

A. Richardson, the San Francisco Agent of the California Associated Press, has refused to send dispatches to the Eureka Sentinel, because that paper editorially criticised the Agency, the Sentinel becoming very much excited over a New York dispatch sent in which was stated the fact that there was an unprecedented demand for Republican campaign documents. Judging by the late election in New York there was an unprecedented demand for Republican campaign documents, and with the victory before us, we are satisfied the demand was genuine, and the campaign documents just such as should be scattered all over the United States, and even into Ohio. But the Sentinel allowed its imagination to run riot, and between the lines of the New York dispatch saw the bugaboo of "anything to beat the Democrats," and hugged to its bosom the hallucination so long a terror to Democratic papers that the Associated Press was the secret ally of the Republican party, only sending out favorable partisan news for the Republicans, and everything that could be picked up against the Democrats. All of which is arguable humbug. The Associated Press furnishes the news, and without any desire to color it for any particular party, but for years past the Democratic journals have been asserting and repeating the preposterous falsehood that the Associated Press was only another name for the Republican party. However, the Sentinel has a perfect right to criticize the Association, and if unjustly, it is for the Association to obtain redress in some other manner, than by the dirty and contemptible one of withholding from it its news report.

Baggage Allowed.

The Northern Pacific Road gives notice that it has decided to allow 150 pounds of first-class baggage with every first-class ticket on both through and local business. The Union Pacific road allows 150 pounds as far as Ogden; but the Central and Southern roads allow but 100 pounds with each ticket.

General James B. Steedman, whose death occurred October 19th, at Toledo, Ohio, was a gallant officer during the war of the rebellion. For a particularly brave and gallant act at the battle of Chancellorsville he was promoted to be Major General. He commanded a division of the reserve corps, and ordered his men to advance in the midst of a tempest of bullets. His men hesitated. Up he rode to a color sergeant, and grasping the flag shouted: "Go back if you like, boys, but the flag can't go with you!" With this he spurred his horse onward. The column at once closed up, grew firm and charged with a hearty cheer, sweeping all before them.

If ex-Governor Boutwell of Massachusetts speaks in next year's Presidential contest, he will have spoken in twelve such campaigns. He first spoke in 1840 and has been upon the stump every fourth year since.

"The apparatus won't lie" in the Sharon-Hill case, and photograph copies of the marriage contract will be one of the greatest of San Francisco curiosities.

A bagatelle of 200,000 is nothing for the Repub., to wipe off when they start in, and also leave a large reserve for the next fight. Look at New York.

The Eureka Sentinel rooster, brought from Ohio, has been run through the Richmond refinery and thrown into the lead pile.

Felix F. and Up-and-Up are matched for $250, half-mile and repeat run, at Carson next Sunday.

Many of the leading Democrats of Reno say they are glad Butler was defeated.

There is not as much hilarity on the Democratic back seats.

Butler has been committed to the Tewksbury almshouse.

Senator Mahone claims that the Reidjusters have a majority in both branches of the Virginia Legislature.

The Republican made great gains in Denver, Colorado.

The Result in Connecticut.

HARTFORD, November 6. The election in Connecticut was for twelve members of the Senate, all the members of the House of Representatives and the Sheriff in eight counties. The Republicans claim the Legislature by 40 majority on joint ballot and nine out of twelve Senators. Republican Sheriffs were elected in Hartford, Torrington, Middletown, Fairfield and New London counties. The Republicans carry Hartford and the large towns by increased majorities, and the State Legislature is in their hands. Hartford goes Republican by 300 majority, electing a Senator and two Representatives. Hartford county elects a Republican Sheriff.

HARTFORD, November 6—8:15 a.m. The Republicans carry Hartford by 600 majority.

The Senate will now stand 15 Republicans and nine Democrats; a Republican gain of 2. House—Republicans, 101; Democrats, 9; a Republican gain of 11.

Reidjusters Submerged.

RICHMOND, Va., November 7. Additional returns this morning show Democratic gains in members of the House, of delegates in each of the following counties: Charlotte, Culpepper, Fairfax, Hanover, Franklin, Henry, Montgomery, Norfolk, Wythe, Prince Anne, and one in Craig and Roanoke, one in Giles and Madison, one in Smyth and Bland, two in Chesterfield and Pawhatan, two in Rockbridge and two in Washington. This, with a loss of one member in Caroline, makes a net Democratic gain of 18, which insures a Democratic majority in the House of 10, with a good prospect of the majority reaching 25 or 30. The Democrats have 22 of the 40 Senators, which will make their majority four, with a chance of increasing it to eight. The Democratic majority on the popular vote in the State, is between 12,000 and 20,000.

Maryland

BALTIMORE, November 7. Returns from a number of counties, incomplete, but sufficient is known to insure the election of the entire Democratic State ticket. The majority for McLean is estimated at 12,000. The Republicans gain three Senators. The Democrats gained Senators in Frederick and Washington counties; this, with five Democratic and eight Republican Senators holding over, will make the Senate stand 14 Democrats and 11 Republicans, with Calvert county yet to be heard from, but it is probably Republican. The House of Delegates will have a Democratic majority of probably 20 or more.

Yesterday's Election.

PHILADELPHIA, November 7. Complete returns received at the Associated Press office at 1:30 A. M. from 64 out of 67 counties in the State, give Miles (Rep.) for Auditor General a majority of 15,413. The three remaining counties—Bradford, Forest and Sullivan—will increase the Republican majority to about 17,000.

Later Returns.

BOSTON, November 7. Additional returns give the Republicans 139 members of the Legislature to 92 Democrats and one Independent, with nine counties to hear from. Robinson's total vote thus far, is 159,835; Butler's, 150,013, with four towns to hear from. The total vote for Lieutenant Governor, gives Ames from 12,000 to 14,000 plurality.

New Jersey.

NEWARK, November 7. The latest election returns give Abbott 5,500 majority; the Senate is 12 Republicans and 34 Democrats. The Democratic majority on joint ballot is five.

Nebraska.

OMAHA, November 7. Returns from 15 precincts give Reese, Rep., for Supreme Judge, 2,150. Estimates based on these places his majority in the State of between 5,000 and 6,000.

Carr's election as Secretary of State in New York is assured.

The Boston Globe (Democrat) concedes Butler's defeat by 10,000.

In Dakota the vote shows a large majority for the new Constitution.

The Trenton, N. J., Times computes Abbott's Democratic majority at 5,499.

By the latest dispatches the Republicans claim to have carried Minnesota by 25,000.

Full returns places the Connecticut State Senate, 10 Republicans and eight Democrats.

Nearly all the towns and cities of the State of Virginia show Democratic gains except Norfolk.

The vote in Brooklyn, New York on Secretary of State was; Maynard, Democrat, 46,991; Carr, Republican, 47,266.

We take no stock in the report that General Sherman would not accept a nomination for the Presidency, says the Salt Lake Tribune. Formerly he had his office, and with a brother's devotion he was seeking to have John Sherman nominated for President. Now his office no longer exists and John Sherman has no good prospect for a nomination. Under such circumstances we suspect the General is too good a soldier to refuse a command from the people should it be made.

The Herald's Opinion.

The New York Herald says: A strong Republican majority is elected to the next State Senate. Probably it will be six in a total of thirty-two. The present Senate is Democratic by a majority of four. The Assembly is in doubt, with the chances favoring a small Republican majority. The present Assembly is Democratic by nearly a two-thirds majority in a total of 128, and the return from the country show what is very ominous to the Democrats next year—that there is a strong Republican reserve vote that was not cast yesterday. The partial victory, in view of the enormous majority of 200,000 for Governor Cleveland against Secretary Folger, is a splendid triumph. It proves that the election last year was not a fair test of the relative strength of the two parties, and that New York is still a doubtful State. On the other hand, the size of the majorities against some of the Stalwart candidates for the Legislature removes all doubt as to whether the political sins of Roscoe Conkling have been forgiven or forgotten. It may be doubtful whether President Arthur, when he strives to return, will look upon these results with unalloyed satisfaction. Clearly the feeling among the Republicans in Massachusetts, New York and Pennsylvania is that the party has been punished enough, and purified through suffering sufficiently to deserve again the support of the masses of the people.

Three New Railroads

Of the three railroads now projected in California, the most important is the extension of the road now operated between Marysville and Oroville. The intention is to extend the road beyond Oroville, to Big Meadows, in Plumas county. The extension will be about seventy-five miles in length and will cost considerable money; but it is said that there is almost an unlimited capital to the credit of the road. The second road now projected is from Rocklin to Forney's. The third route is from Napa to Berryessa Valley.

A Mormon Lobby Gathering

The Washington correspondent of the Inter-Ocean takes the view that important legislation is anticipated on the Mormon question in Congress this coming Winter, which is evidenced by the arrival of numerous strangers in the city from the Territory of Utah. These people, who are supporters of the Mormon Church-rite doctrines, have not made themselves prominent by stopping at public houses, but have taken private rooms in different parts of the city.

Webfoot Goli.

Neither Oregon nor Washington Territory have been even looked upon as gold or silver mining States, and are little known in that connection to the outside world. They yet yield a pretty certain addition every year to a stock of precious metals—from a million to a million and a half dollars. In 1883 the yield is given at four millions—altogether about $37,000,000.

Villiard's New House.

Villiard's new house, on the corner of Madison avenue and Fifty first street, New York, is expected to far excel Wm. H. Vanderbilt's in magnificence. One of the rooms is finished entirely in mosaic, and the adornment of two others is estimated to cost no less than $150,000.

The United States Supreme Court has decided that self-killing by an insane person, understanding the physical nature and consequences of his act, but not its moral aspect, is not death by suicide within the meaning of the condition in a policy of life insurance upon his life, which provides that the policy shall be void in case he shall die by suicide.

The Orleans (N. Y.) American commenting on prohibition, makes the following true and sensible remark:

"So, the only effect of the prohibition movement is to cripple and embarrass its best and truest friend, and to bring its deadliest enemies into the administration of State and National affairs." What is true in this matter in Ohio, is also true as to our county affairs. The only possible result of the prohibition movement in this county will be, if successful at all, to defeat temperance candidates who are also Republicans, and to elect a ticket nominated and supported by the liquor selling interest, and the whiskey Democracy. Candid temperance friends; is there not a better way?

The Eureka Sentinel says:

The Carson and Reno newspapers went after Congressman Cassidy pretty sharply in the matter of the consolidation of the United States Land Offices in this State and charged him with striving to deprive the west end of Nevada of one office for the benefit of Eureka because it is his home.

The Reno papers did nothing of the kind. On the contrary the JOURNAL stated that it did not believe Cassidy had any hand in the removal.

Knights of Pythias.

The Southern Knight in its last issue gives a complete history of this Order. It was organized at Washington, D. C., February 10, 1884, by Justus H. Bathhouse, who is recognized as the founder of the Order. Its growth at the beginning was by no means rapid, for, although several lodges were formed during that and the succeeding year, they were but short-lived, and at the close of the year 1885 there remained but one lodge, having a membership of fifty-two. With the year 1885 the growth of the Order became more substantial and that year closed with four lodges and 370 members. The next year was a very prosperous one and the lodges grew to number forty-one, having a membership of 6,847. In 1888 began the marvelous growth which first attracted the general attention of the country, and which has continued steadily ever since, showing the vitality and the need of the Order. At the end of 1887 there were 197 lodges and 34,624 members, and the Order began to find recruits in other fields than the immediate vicinity where it first saw light. In a few brief years it was planted in every State and Territory of this country, and active lodges are now at work in forty-four States and Territories, the District of Columbia, the province of Ontario, New Brunswick, Manitoba and British Columbia and the Sandwich Islands. At the beginning of the year 1883 there were 1,876 lodges, with a total membership of 123,274 Knights, and the Order is increasing at the rate of about 25,000 members annually. There are three ranks—Page, Esquire and Knight.

The Endowment Rank is entirely separate from the others, save that to enter it one must be a Knight in good standing in some lodge of the Order. There are three classes in the Endowment Rank. The first pays $1,000 on the death of a member; the second class, $2,000, and the third class, $1,000. All members under 50 years can enter any or all of the classes, but those over 50 can enter only the third class. As often as is rendered necessary by deaths occurring, the members are assessed $1 10 in each class, and have thirty days in which to pay it after issue of the notice. The average cost of the insurance is about 1 per cent annually of the amount that will be received in case of death. Up to June 30, 1883, the Endowment Rank has paid out $1,734,980 as benefits to families of deceased members.

The Uniform Rank is another rank that is strictly optional with the members after having attained to the rank of Knight. To those fond of display, or possessed of military desires, this rank offers a means of gratification. Its uniform is one of the handsomest ever devised for the members of a secret Order, and it is rapidly coming into favor and new divisions are constantly being organized.

Dr. King, P. G. C. and S., of Toronto, is bent on having three Canadian grand jurisdictions represented at the New Orleans session of the Supreme Lodge in 1884. With that end in view he is corresponding with the Deputy Supreme Chancellors of both New Brunswick and Manitoba. The next session of the Supreme Lodge will be held at New Orleans, beginning on the fourth Tuesday of April, 1884. The present Supreme officers are: P. S. C., George W. Lindsay, Baltimore, Md.; S. C., John P. Linton, Johnston, Pa.; S. V. C., John Van Valkenburg, Fort Madison, Ia.; S. P. L. B. Allen, Norfolk, Va.; S. M. of E., J. B. Stumph, Indianapolis, Ind.; S. K. of R. and S., John J. Ward, Baltimore, Md.; S. M. and A., George B. Shaw, Erie, Pa.; S. I. G., G. C. Manlove, Vicksburg, Miss.; S. O. G., John W. Thompson, Washington, D. C.

MISCELLANEOUS.

An Old Soldier's EXPERIENCE.

"Calvert, Texas, May 3, 1882. "I wish to express my appreciation of the valuable qualities of

as a cough remedy. "While with Churchill's army, just before the battle of Vicksburg, I contracted a severe cold, which terminated in a dangerous cough. I found no relief till on our march we came to a country store, where, on asking for some remedy, I was urged to try AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

"I did so, and was rapidly cured. Since then I have kept the PECTORAL constantly by me, for family use, and I have found it to be an invaluable remedy for throat and lung diseases. J. W. WHITLEY."

Thousands of testimonials certify to the prompt cure of all bronchial and lung affections, by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. Being very palatable, the youngest children take it readily.

Bogus Butter.

Word comes from California that the association of dairymen are about to employ detectives to ferret out and prosecute parties in that State who are believed to be violating the oleomargarine law. It is presumed that in this instance the detectives, aside from the accomplishments supposed to be possessed by that class of gentlemen, must be expert tasters; for it is claimed that the bull butter manufactured in California so closely resembles the genuine article, both in appearance and in taste, that dairymen themselves are unable to distinguish the difference. The California law punishes the dealer as well as the manufacturer, and if there is any considerable amount of bogus butter manufactured in California the imitation must be very close to render it necessary to employ detectives to ferret out the stalls in which it is sold. It may be that when the discovery is made, if ever, dairymen may be astonished to find that the law breakers are members of their own organization. No charge will be made for this hint.

Nevada's Porkpots.

The Lovelock correspondent of the Winnemucca Silver State says: "Big Meadows will soon become noted as a pork producing as well as grain raising locality, as several farmers are engaging in the business of hog raising, and giving it their special attention. H. C. Emmons has 700 porkers, over half of which he is fattening, and will convert into pork; C. Bastian has 200 head; Marker Brothers 250 head; J. H. Theis 150 head; John Hill 150 head; George Young 175 head; John Reed 125 head; John Harrison 100 head, and Joseph Marzen and others have considerable many, but I am not informed as to the exact number. These hogs feed on alfalfa and tales during the Summer, and after harvest are turned upon the grain fields to fatten. In this manner they are raised and fattened at comparatively small cost, and are in good grain-fed condition, and ready for market by Christmas."

Passing Away.

The mutual benefit societies of modern times are playing sad havoc with life Insurance Companies. Within the past ten years no less than fifty-six of these institutions have failed, and as it is claimed, for want of patronage. These companies returned to policy-holders, whose policies were in force at the time of the failure, more than $77,000 less than was collected from the same parties in the way of premiums, nor does this include the enormous sum that must have been collected from individuals who became disgusted with the system and forfeited their policies before the failures. The world advances, and with it, necessarily, the science of life insurance, and the time is at hand when the old system must give way to something more in accord with modern ideas, and which at least is believed to be safer and better.

The End.

Taking the chances that there may be some mistake in calculations, JOURNAL readers are informed that to-day, November 8th, according to devout Mohammedan prophecies and calculations, is the day on which shall end all things earthly. The hour and moment is not given, but it would be well enough to don your ascension robe early and be ready to take in the show.

Spreading Flour.

The fame of the new roller flour manufactured at the Nevada State mill is spreading abroad. Yesterday an order was received at the mill from W. S. Gage & Co., at Lopez, in Nye county, for 25 barrels, and a similar one from Lewis & Knapp, at Walnucka, on the C. & O.

A vigorous growth of hair is promoted and the youthful color restored by applying Parker's Hair Balsam.

Governor Tittle in Luck.

The Tucson Citizen of November 3d says: The United Verde Copper Company has declared a dividend, the aggregate of which is $32,500. As Governor Tittle is the reputed owner of one-third of the stock of this valuable property, his share will be nearly $11,000. The Citizen is glad to hear of the Governor's good fortune. He has done well by the Territory in his capacity as Chief Executive, and it is but fair that the Territory should return the compliment.

Horizontal Wells.

Artesian water is obtained in Los Angeles county, Cal., by running tunnels into the Sierra Madre mountains. In several instances good supplies have been obtained in this way, which has caused a great many other tunnels to be started for the same purpose. These horizontal wells will do in the mountains, but would not do in a valley.

Crystallized Honey-Dew.

The Oregon Reviewer speaks of a singular process of making syrup, as follows: E. T. Miller has placed on our table a specimen of one of the greatest natural curiosities it has been our privilege to witness for some time. It consisted of a fir bough coated to the depth of half an inch in places with a clear, white candy. The specimen came from the neighborhood of Bald mountain, northwest of King's valley, where, we are informed, nearly all the trees are so coated. It is evidently crystallized honey-dew, and must exist in immense quantities in that section. The settlers gather it and manufacture it into syrup for table use.

They Don't Seem to Like Him.

It transpires that ex-Delegate George Cannon's mission to the East is to work in the interest of the Mormon Church in securing the removal of Governor Murray, and no money is being spared to accomplish his overthrow. There is a movement on foot among the Gentiles to have him reappointed. The Apostle, since the Governor succeeded in ousting him as a delegate from Utah, is determined to get even by securing Murray's removal.

A Magnetic Disturbance.

As the steamer Columbia was entering the harbor at Panama she was struck by lightning, but the iron foremast acted as a conductor, and little damage was done. Portions of the iron of the ship became magnetized, so that alterations will have to be made. The compass will not point correctly, and a movement of the wheel will deflect it. All of the magnets on board were demoralized.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. A Card.

William Punger tenders his best thanks to his numerous friends, and the public generally, for the very liberal support accorded him in the past, and he begs to inform them that he has again effected a co-partnership with R. E. Queen, at the old stand, and respectfully invites a continuance of their patronage. The new firm have added largely to their stock of drugs, chemicals, patent medicines, wines and liquors for medicinal purposes; toilet and fancy articles, etc. In the dispensing departments they make a specialty of physicians' prescriptions and family receipts, bringing to their already large experience the latest achievements in scientific pharmacy, and are prompt in filling all orders entrusted to them.

The Bergstein Charges.

The Carson Appeal says that after the charges had been received from Dr. Bergstein the Dr. asked that two witnesses might be examined immediately as they were about removing to California. The Commissioners decided to sit on Friday and take the testimony of the two witnesses. They also asked Dr. Bergstein to be more explicit in the charges of cruelty and malfeasance and to specify times and instances embraced in the charges. The Dr. said that he would file supplemental charges and the meeting then adjourned until Friday.
